

DEATH HAS COME TO CECIL RHODES

The Man Who Dreamed of Empire in Africa.

THE BOERS ARCH ENEMY AT HIS DOOR THEY LAY THE BLAME FOR THE WAR.

His Health Had Been Gradually Failing Since the Siege of Kimberley—End Came at Cape Town.

CAPE TOWN, March 26.—Cecil Rhodes is dead. He suffered no pain. Rhodes' health has steadily declined in the past year. In fact, he has not enjoyed his customary health since the early days of the Transvaal war, when he was besieged with the British forces and the civilians at Kimberley. The mental strain which he endured at that time was enormous, for it was generally believed that if the Boers captured Kimberley their first act would be to put to death the man whom they blame for all the troubles that had befallen their little republic.

His death at this time gives a suggestion of tragic fatality to his superbly picturesque career that the man responsible for the struggle between British and Boers should drop out of the game while his countrymen are still "paying the price that staggers humanity," while Kruger, his arch-enemy, is still alive, and while the conquest and amalgamation of South Africa are still only a possibility.

His Name Will Live With Africa.

Nevertheless Rhodes has won fame enough to survive him for centuries. Not yet fifty years old, he has achieved what few men have imagination even to dream of. Of limited nominal authority, he has had the actual power of an emperor. A "self-made" monarch, he has for years consulted with actual sovereigns on terms of admitted equality.

With no early advantages of wealth, influence or prestige, yet with a priceless capital of strength, imagination, daring and none too delicate scruples, this man has become a millionaire countless times over, a dreamer of colossal enterprises, an unforgettable example of success because he has perhaps been the only man who has most perfectly exemplified the spirit of his age.

To color the map of Africa red is to say to make it British, to wrest millions here and millions there and to buy and sell continents with the dazzling total, to control the destinies of a dozen races—these have been the ambitions of the modern Caesar, this Briton who is more American than the Americans.

How He Began in Life.

Rhodes began to be an individual very early in life. Stolidly intolerant of authority, he amazed his mother and his nurse by doing exactly as he pleased and submitting as a matter of course to whatever penalty might follow. After awhile they gave up questioning the young autocrat.

Later on the domestic imperialist grew staid. And just as he had entered Oriel College, Oxford, he was elected to the top job in the world, to be the first of the Rhodes scholars, and was accordingly shipped to join an old African climate cured the boy's lung trouble, and at the same time he knew at his brother, Herbert, in Natal. And more than to shape itself. He had been intended for the church and was indeed already a student of divinity. But a few years he alternated between the two, resolutely that had already taken such long vacations devoted to the study of the classics, that had already taken such long vacations devoted to the study of the classics, that had already taken such long vacations devoted to the study of the classics.

One of the most remarkable things about Cecil Rhodes is that he has always known exactly what he wanted to do. He was greatly taken with the idea of becoming a cotton planter in the United States at the same time that he wanted to finish his course at Oxford. So for a few years he alternated between the two, resolutely that had already taken such long vacations devoted to the study of the classics, that had already taken such long vacations devoted to the study of the classics, that had already taken such long vacations devoted to the study of the classics.

Political Eminence. Possibly this remarkable young man had dreamed of political eminence from the beginning. Perhaps the sense of power that millions give first inspired him with this ambition. At all events, it was when engaged in the Kimberley Boer consultation enterprise that Rhodes first revealed his political ambition. In 1885 he said one day, having his hand on the map of Africa, "I am going to have the Cape to the Zambesi, all this must belong to England. That is my dream."

Henceforth diamonds were the means, not the end. Part of his dream was to become one of the richest men in the world. Rhodes was neither miser nor spendthrift, nor indeed pre-eminently a miser. He was a man of power, and Rhodes began to see that power was his right inheritance. With that large prophetic point of view which no small man ever attains, Cecil Rhodes saw that South Africa must in the days take its place among the nations of the world. But this could be achieved only by welding together the political and racial fragments of which it was composed.

Rhodes' Plan. A federation of South African states, modeled on the United States of America, seemed to Rhodes the desirable political future of the country. But it was a future he had no intention of leaving to chance. This glorious federation must be England's—every inch of this incoherent, unrelated mass of semi-civilization must be British. To make it such has been Cecil Rhodes' life work. That he died with it unfinished, of course, does not affect the real sublimity of the undertaking.

Cecil Rhodes has been member of Parliament, premier of Cape Colony, treasurer-general of the Cape and no one. But no office that he could hold would indicate the real extent of his power—the power that only Cecil Rhodes has been sufficient to make Africa British "from the Cape to the Congo." Cecil Rhodes never had confidence in his life has been passed in first conceiving objects, then developing them. He had that sort of thing was better done alone. It is possibly for this reason that he has always shunned women. He never married and was never known to have had any woman for a friend. The power that after all "somebody who knew him once said of him, "Scorning delights, he lived herculean laborious days, his only pleasure his work—a self-defeating human machine, always travelling, always in the line of his lengthy train of responsibilities, whose horizon continually receded."

Africa is not yet red from the Cape to the Congo, but to have conceived it will make Cecil Rhodes, the modern Napoleon, remember.

PATRICK'S FATE IN JURY'S HANDS

The Long Trial Concluded Wednesday Afternoon.

HISTORY OF FAMOUS CASE

VALET JONES THE MOST IMPORTANT WITNESS.

He Has Made Two Decidedly Conflicting Statements of the Manner of Millionaire Rice's Murder.

NEW YORK, March 26.—The case of Albert T. Patrick, charged with the murder of William M. Rice, was given to the jury at 1:34 p. m. The trial was begun on Jan. 20.

The addresses of counsel were finished yesterday and today. Records began his charge to the jury. He said the defendant was not obliged to prove his innocence; it was for the prosecution to prove his guilt and he was entitled to the benefit of every reasonable doubt. The jury, he said, was to judge for itself of the credibility of any witness. The only thing for them to decide was the innocence or guilt of the defendant of the charge of murder. They should not concern themselves with any other charges made against him.

RAIN TO LAST INTO NIGHT

Fair Thursday and Probably Ten Degrees Cooler Is the Official Prediction.

Grass-growing days are here, and Dr. Hyatt paraphrased a good old saw Wednesday when he issued his ukase, "While the sprigs sprout, let no dog bark." And this saying is not for "Sprigs" either, though the weather is fine for dogs.

Before 10 o'clock Wednesday one inch of rain had soaked into the grime of St. Louis streets.

If the downfall continues all day at present rate, the prophet says, three inches of rain will have reached the gutters Wednesday night.

"Rain Wednesday and Wednesday night, probably fair Thursday," reads the official prediction.

Cooler weather will trail after the rain, and the chances are that the mercury Thursday will touch the 48 degree mark. Wednesday the temperature was 25.

THE WEATHER INDICATIONS. COOLER THURSDAY.

For St. Louis and vicinity—Rain Wednesday afternoon and Wednesday night; probably fair and cooler Thursday.

Missouri—Generally fair Wednesday night and Thursday; cooler Thursday and in west Wednesday night; high southwest wind.

Illinois—Showers and possibly thunderstorms Wednesday afternoon and Wednesday night, probably followed by fair Thursday; warmer in north-east Wednesday night; cooler in south Thursday; high south winds.

BLIZZARD SWEEPS WYOMING. Traffic May Be Impeded by Great Snowdrifts.

SPECIAL TO THE POST-DISPATCH. CHEYENNE, Wyo., March 26.—Southeastern Wyoming is suffering from the snow and blizzard that began Monday night. The drop in temperature has stopped the melting of the snow and great drifts that may impede traffic later are being formed.

DEMURRER OVERRULED IN MEYSENBURG CASE

Contention Made by Defense That $9000 Check Was Not Legal Money Is Not Sustained.

Judge Douglas this afternoon overruled Meyseburg's demurrer and the defense will now submit testimony.

The morning session adjourned at 12:30, after Judge Douglas had requested the state to submit during recess all the authorities on the point "Was the $9000 check paid by Stock to Meyseburg for certain stocks lawful money of the United States?"

Argument on the defendant's demurrer to the sufficiency of the state's evidence had been concluded, the state holding that Meyseburg's conversations with Kratz and others manifested his plain participation in an agreement with Stock to receive money for the stock in return for good will toward the Suburban bill, and the defense denying anything constituting an agreement.

In the closing moments of the argument the defense raised the question of what constitutes "lawful money of the United States."

Circuit Attorney Folk said to the Post-Dispatch after adjournment: "I feel sure the court will overrule the demurrer. I believe the court's mind is now made up on every point except the question as to whether a check constitutes lawful money. On that point the authorities which we cite will substantiate our contention."

Judge Douglas at 10:05 Wednesday directed the jury in the Meyseburg bribery case to retire until the arguments of counsel were concluded.

The defendant and Morton Jourdan, one of his attorneys, were in court a quarter of an hour before 10 o'clock and engaged in consultation. The other attorneys for the defense, Messrs. Lehmann and Krum, were on hand when court opened. Circuit Attorney Folk and his assistants, Messrs. Bishop and Maroney, were also present.

There were comparatively few spectators, the uninviting weather keeping the usual throng away. Among the well-known persons who listened to the proceedings were Gov. E. O. Stanford and President W. H. Thompson of the Bank of Commerce.

Judge Douglas, having announced at the close of Tuesday's session that he would hear further arguments on the defense's demurrer to the sufficiency of the state's evidence, Assistant Circuit Attorney C. Orrick Bishop began the argument for the state as to why the demurrer should be overruled.

With careful attention to detail, Mr. Bishop recited the history of the transaction on which the indictment of Meyseburg is based. He reviewed the relative circumstances antecedent and subsequent to the delivery by Philip Stock of the $9000 check to Meyseburg, which were brought out in evidence Tuesday by Messrs. Stock, Hosper, Hodges, Nollan and Wiegman.

STOCK SOUGHT GOOD WILL OF MEYSENBURG. The burden of Mr. Bishop's argument was that in handing Meyseburg the check, Stock did so for the sole purpose of securing the good will of Meyseburg, then a member of the Council railroad committee, towards the Suburban Railway bill.

He referred to the testimony of W. F. Noller Tuesday that the stock of the St. Louis Electrical Construction Co. was practically valueless and declared that both Stock and Meyseburg knew this to be a fact when the transaction was made.

He cited legal authorities to show that the law regards any agreement as an express agreement. Such an agreement, he said, can be established by writing, words or conduct.

"In this case," said Circuit Attorney Folk, "we find the defendant saying that he has a claim—of what nature we do not know—and telling his fellow members of the railroad committee that he intends to take advantage of his opportunity to collect his claim."

Mr. Folk then reviewed the testimony relating to Philip Stock's visit to Meyseburg's office.

He urged that Meyseburg, knowing that Stock represented the Suburban company, and paid him the money for the purpose of securing his good will as a councilman, entered into an express agreement.

"A legislator may sell his influence, as well as his vote," said Mr. Folk. "The vote may be the smallest part of the transaction. A legislator may accept a bribe with the agreement that he shall not vote for a measure, but shall withdraw his opposition to it and shall work in its favor, although keeping the record clear by voting against it."

"In bribery there is no written agreement. There is no contract reading 'I hereby bribe you.' The parties to such a crime conceal their acts more carefully than this."

"Sometimes bribery is revealed only when an official accepts bribes from both sides. It makes no difference that an official may later violate an agreement entered into by bribery. The material fact is the acceptance of the bribe."

"Lord Bacon accepted a present from a litigant, and was adjudged guilty of bribery, although he afterward decided against the man from whom he received the present."

"If a policeman whose duty it is to suppress gambling takes presents from gamblers, he is guilty of bribery, whether a promise can be shown or not."

"STOCK GUILTY OF BRIBERY." "It is not to be expected that in a case like this the parties to the contract would do anything to bring their nefarious agreement to light."

"It is not necessary to show the details of this agreement. It is sufficient to show that the defendant, an official, received money which he knew was expected to influence his official conduct."

"The defense states that Philip Stock was not guilty of bribery. I say that he was. When Stock handed the defendant the money to influence his action on this bill he knew that he was guilty of bribery."

"When the defendant took the check he entered into an express agreement. 'Why was another check substituted for the first one? To hide the evidence of crookedness.'"

"The state has shown that the agreement was carried out. The bill, after lying dormant for three months, was taken up and passed on Feb. 8, 1901, six days after the transaction between Stock and Meyseburg."

When Mr. Folk concluded, Mr. Lehmann said: "Mr. Folk, I wish to call your attention to one point. This indictment charges that the defendant received lawful money of the United States, whereas the state's evidence is that he received a check."

In reply Mr. Folk read to the court a section of the statutes to the effect that an error in an indictment, regarding the name or description of persons or things referred to, does not invalidate the indictment if it does not prejudice the material rights of the defendant.

HE WAS THE "LEGISLATIVE AGENT" FOR THE SUBURBAN RAILWAY COMPANY

PHILIP STOCK

Mr. Stock testifies in the Meyseburg bribery trial that he was employed by President Turner of the Suburban to PUSH council bill 44, known as "the Suburban bill," through the Municipal assembly. The bill granted the use of many miles of street to the Suburban and the franchise would have been worth thousands of dollars. The bill was killed by injunction proceeding in the circuit court, brought by property owners.

thinking that two wills must concur to constitute an agreement. It is sufficient that two minds should concur.

"If a highwayman holds me up and I give him my valuables at the pistol's point, my will does not agree with his, but my mind does, and we enter into an agreement by which I give up my watch or money."

"I am not metaphysical enough to distinguish between concurrence of the mind and of the will," said Mr. Lehmann. "The essential thing about an agreement is that it should be made with another person, not with myself alone."

"Legal authorities do not go into metaphysics in this manner, but define an agreement as the assent of two persons to a proposition."

"If I am a member of the Council," said Mr. Lehmann, "and oppose a measure because I do not like the man who introduces it, I may not be following a high ideal of conduct, but I am not indictable for that attitude."

"If a man showed he intended to shoot me unless I gave up my money," said Judge Douglas, "it is simply taking chances that he would not shoot me. I would simply be yielding to the situation."

"To establish an agreement constituting bribery," said Mr. Lehmann, "it must be shown that the agreement has relation to the subject matter before the defendant as an official."

"To give a gratuity to a man because he has a grievance is simply taking chances. It is not an agreement."

"The embarrassment under which the court labors is due to the indictment and could be due to nothing else," remarked Judge Krum for the defense.

He declared that the agreement alleged in the indictment not only was not made but could not be made.

"If a highwayman should put a pistol to your honor's head," shouted Krum at Judge Douglas, "and declared 'your money or your life' would that be an evidence that he intended to kill you?"

He argued that his question illustrated the point that the state was trying to make.

The testimony of the state's witnesses indicated no more clearly the existence of an agreement between Meyseburg and Stock than the question of the highwayman indicated an agreement on his part to kill the judge.

Krum said he had the highest respect for the court both a lawyer and a judge, and that he knew it was an impossibility for him to conceive a theory of law by which he could decide that there was an agreement.

"If the giver thought he could secure legislative favor, he was guilty of bribery, but on the other hand the offense is nothing more than an act of possible bad taste. The penal code does not punish violations of the canons of good taste. It does not punish many acts which are open to criticism."

"Even the alleged statement of Kratz contains nothing showing a hope on the part of Stock that by paying Meyseburg he would cause a cessation of his opposition to the bill."

Judge Douglas interrupted Mr. Lehmann to remark: "The defense falls into the error of

He attacked the use of the word "until" in the indictment. He argued that if Meyseburg had made an agreement to fight the bill "until" he was paid $9000 and secured the money under such circumstances that he would have been guilty of extortion if anything and not guilty of bribery. Besides, Krum contended, if he had made such an agreement the transaction would have been completed when he accepted the $9000, and that any future official election would not be affected by such acceptance.

Judge Douglas asked Krum a question he had previously asked Lehmann—his idea of an agreement.

"Do you understand an agreement to mean concurrent promises?" said the court. "Certainly," Krum replied. "It couldn't mean anything else."

WAS THE CHECK LAWFUL MONEY? When Judge Krum concluded the court said he would like to hear from the state in regard to the point raised by Mr. Lehmann that the check Meyseburg received was not lawful money of the United States, as alleged in the indictment.

Mr. Folk said that the indictment was broad enough to prevent a subsequent indictment if acquittal should occur in the present case.

He said that the evidence had shown that $9000 had actually been secured by Meyseburg. This point was further urged by Assistant Circuit Attorney Maroney.

Judge Douglas then said (at 12:30) he would take the point under consideration, and would pass upon it at 2:30 o'clock. He then adjourned court to that hour.

Just before adjournment Attorney Krum for the defense submitted the following special demurrer in detail:

State vs. Meyseburg. For special demurrer the defendant prays the court to instruct the jury to find the defendant not guilty, and in support thereof the defendant alleges a variance between the proof and the indictment in this:

The indictment charges defendant with having received and accepted the sum of $9000 in lawful money of the United States while the proof shows that defendant accepted and received a cashier's check of the German Savings Institution for the sum of $9000.

The indictment charges the bill in question granted the St. Louis & Suburban Railway Co. certain franchises, when the evidence shows the bill granted to the St. Louis & Meramec Railway Co. and the Meramec & Suburban Railway Co. certain franchises.

"That the indictment charges that defendant did solicit, propose, make, and enter into a certain corrupt express agreement and covenant with Stock to do a certain thing, while the proof shows that such agreement was made by defendant with Stock, because there is no evidence to support the indictment and charges; and because there is a total failure of proof."

F. W. Lehmann, Morton Jourdan, Chester H. Krum.

"MEYSENBURG WILL TELL ALL"

Just before the trial opened this morning Circuit Attorney Folk said to the Post-Dispatch:

"I am convinced that the state has made its case. I do not care to prophesy the action of the jury."

Fred W. Lehmann of counsel for the defense said: "If our motion to quash shall be overruled Mr. Meyseburg will go upon the stand at once and tell all about his transactions with Mr. Stock."

Chester H. Krum, also of counsel for defense, said: "I repeat what I have always said, the state has made no case because it has no case. The indictment alleges specific agreement for the offense of bribery. The state's evidence not only shown the existence of an agreement between Meyseburg and any one, but has shown that such a transaction took place between Stock and Meyseburg."

HE HIRED THE "LEGISLATIVE AGENT."

CHARLES H. TURNER
Mr. Turner, President of the Suburban Railway company testifies in the Meyersburg trial that Philip Stock was the "legislative agent" of the company when the Suburban bill was before the council.

"STOCK—LEGISLATIVE AGENT"

—C. H. TURNER.

SYNOPSIS OF TUESDAY'S TESTIMONY

The entire case of the state was presented in the testimony given Tuesday.

Phil Stock, the first witness, admitted he was engaged in August, 1900, as legislative agent for the Suburban road, working under direct supervision of Charles H. Turner, president of the Suburban Company, for the passage of the Suburban bill. The bill was hung up in the railway committee of the council. Stock testified that Councilman Charles Kratz told him Meyersburg, member of the railroad committee, was blocking the bill as he had a grievance against the Suburban Road.

"I asked Kratz what Meyersburg's grievance was," Stock testified, "and Kratz stated that it was over some shares in the St. Louis Electrical Construction Co. This talk was on Jan. 11. I told Kratz we had bought some of the shares from Hugh Brady for $10 a share, and he might offer this price to Meyersburg, and to state in making the offer that the price would be paid simply to keep him up a friend. I saw Kratz a few days later and told him I would have to report first to Mr. Turner. Jan. 9 I told him to meet me at the planters' Saturday, Feb. 2, and I would have the money to settle with Meyersburg. He was to notify Meyersburg to be ready on that date."

The meeting occurred and the money was paid over, witness stated. Objection was made to the question as to why Kratz was employed to find out why the bill was held up. Lehmann held that there was an allegation in the indictment of an "expressed agreement" between Stock and the defendant, and that it was not relevant to the proof of that contention to show that Kratz was also a legislative agent of the Suburban Railway Co. for the passage of the bill.

Mr. Folk showed witness two certificates of stock in the St. Louis Electrical Construction Co., each for 100 shares, made out in the name of Emil A. Meyersburg and indorsed in blank. He identified them as the shares purchased from Meyersburg on Feb. 2, 1901. He also identified a check for $500, drawn Jan. 30, 1901, on the German Savings Institution, in favor of E. A. Meyersburg, and Philip Stock, covering the payment for the 200 shares of stock. The witness had received this check from Cashier Hospes about 10 o'clock Feb. 2. He took it into the planters' house, where Charles Kratz was waiting for him. Kratz telephoned to Meyersburg that they were coming with the check. They found Meyersburg in his private office. Kratz said:

"Stock is here to settle for the shares." The witness then stated his conversation with Meyersburg. He said:

"I understand you say our people have not treated you properly. We will pay the amount asked for the shares, although they have no value."

To this Meyersburg replied, speaking to Kratz: "Charley, you know me, and you know I want nothing but what is fair and square. I want to be paid what I paid out on the shares." The shares were already indorsed and the witness handed them, giving Meyersburg the check. He handed the witness a statement receipt of the amount advanced, with interest, on account of the shares, and said:

"Now, Mr. Stock, I want you to understand that this is strictly a business transaction, and will not influence my vote."

The total amount of the account, as rendered, was $592.55.

Richard Hospes, cashier of the German Savings Institution, identified the check and said it was paid from the proceeds of a note discounted for Charles Turner and Henry Nicolaus.

Charles H. Turner stated that he was president of the Suburban Railway Co. when the bill was before the Municipal Assembly.

"Philip Stock was legislative agent for the Suburban company when it came to the council at that time, and the necessity of putting up the money," Mr. Folk asked.

Attorneys for the defense objected and the objection was sustained.

Councilman Hodges of the railway committee testified that, at a meeting of the committee held in January in Meyersburg's office to consider the bill, Meyersburg told him he intended to demand money of Turner and others because of money he advanced some years previous in connection with the Electrical Construction Co. and for the purchase of a lot. Witness said he told Meyersburg that, as the Suburban bill was then before the Council, he would consider very indifferently to press the claim.

He said he was the witness said to Meyersburg, he would put it in the hands of the Council.

The name of Charles B. Stark testified in some way by Meyersburg with a construction company.

"I had collected," Wiggin said, "the bill after it was amended by Meyersburg and about recommending."

William F. Nolke, a director of the St. Louis Electrical Construction Co., testified that the shares in the company had no value. Judge Krum, for the defense, objected, as he said the value would have to be determined in court in a suit against the defendant who had caused its depreciation. Krum asked if the witness knew of the purchase by the Kinloch syndicate of the stock of Charles B. Stark in the construction company for $15,000. This was objected to.

Ex-Councilman Wiggins told by Meyersburg the manner he employed in collecting his claim testified he said to Meyersburg that his activity was most indirect in view of the pendency of the Suburban bill. Fred W. Lehmann, for the defense, filed demurrer to the testimony of the state, when the state closed, asserting that it had not proved the indictment by showing an agreement between Meyersburg and Stock and had not shown that the transaction regarding the construction stock, in any way influenced the action of the defendant toward the Suburban bill. Arguments were in course of delivery when the court adjourned.

RAILROADS ADOPT NEW TICKET.

It Is Designed to Give Frequent Travelers an Advantage.

CHICAGO, March 26.—An entire new form of ticket is soon to be placed on sale by the Chicago roads operating west of the Missouri river.

Instead of buying local tickets with coin, transportation tickets will be purchased by book, and will be the first interchangeable mileage book to be used in the territory west of El Paso and Denver. Later, it is expected that it will be adopted by the lines from the Missouri river to Denver and El Paso.

The book resembles the usual mileage book, but the figures, instead of representing mileage, represent money, five cents for every line. The purchaser pays $5 and is given a book with lines representing that amount. Upon presenting the book at any ticket office, the price of the ticket is torn from the book and a record of it made in the back of the book. Upon using all the book, the purchaser, by presenting the book, secures a rebate amounting to the difference between the gross and the net rate for the entire mileage traveled.

The roads have agreed to use the book.

AMERICAN MILLS ASPHALT BILLS IN A COMBINE WERE REJECTED

FEDERATION REPRESENTING CAPITAL OF $400,000,000.

MEETING HELD AT CHICAGO

The Officers Assert That the Purpose Is Not to Control Prices of Flour.

CHICAGO, March 26.—The final steps in the formation of the National Millers' Federation, representing a total capital of $400,000,000, and an annual flour output of 100,000,000 barrels, were taken at a meeting held here today. The federation is the national organization of the various state organizations, and in addition it will include the National Millers' organization and the International Wheat Millers' Association. Officers of both these organizations have been prominent in organizing the new federation.

At today's meeting the following officers were elected: President, Barney A. Eckert, Chicago; first vice-president, Henry L. Little, Minneapolis; second vice-president, ex-Gov. E. O. Stanard, Missouri; treasurer, W. C. Ellis, Louisiana.

A board of directors which includes the officers, was elected, the additional members being: C. C. Grove, Minnesota; W. N. Anderson, Wisconsin; M. H. Davis, Ohio; C. T. Bailey, Kentucky; J. M. Rector, Texas; W. M. Roe, Michigan; C. L. Cutter, Ohio; A. L. Miner, Pennsylvania; C. R. Engel, New York; E. H. Evans, Indiana; E. F. Bronson, Tennessee; Seymour Carter, Minnesota.

The first annual meeting will be held in Chicago, June 11, 1902.

President Eckert declared that the federation was not a combination for the control of prices, but for the purpose of furthering mutual interests and correcting abuses which, he said, had grown up during the past 20 years. Resolutions were adopted endorsing the legislative movements to give the interstate commerce commission power to enforce its ruling and correct the action of ocean steamship companies and railroads in the alleged discrimination in freight rates against flour in favor of wheat. The Nelson amendment to the Harter act in reference to the Leighton clause to prevent the steamship companies from discriminating against American flour was indorsed. Mr. Eckert explained that a vote against flour had to pay an unjustly high rate of freight at the London wharves.

In his address President Eckert declared that the new federation should endeavor to extend the four market international commercial reciprocity treaties or otherwise.

FRANK KEMP CUT HIS THROAT.

Ended a Drinking Bout but Not His Life.

Frank Kemp, a painter 34 years old, living at 604 South Broadway, attempted suicide Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock by cutting his throat with a razor.

Kemp is married. For several days he drank heavily, so the police allege. The attempt to end his life was made during the temporary absence of his wife. When she returned she saw what he had done and called for aid.

He was removed to the South Side Dispensary where he died at 11 o'clock Tuesday. He was sewed up. He was moved to the City Hospital. He will recover.

Miss Clara Nelson Weds.

Announcement was made Wednesday of the marriage of Miss Clara Nelson of 364 Maple avenue to Earl Willoughby Collinsville, Ill., at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the Methodist church at Collinsville. Rev. Keeling, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony in the presence of relatives of the parties. The young couple, it was announced, would be home to their friends at the home of the groom.

Three Damage Suits.—Abraham Utkman, of the Utkman Clear Co., has filed suit against the R. G. Dun and Brackett agencies, and the City of St. Louis, for $10,000 each. In the petition he avers that the agencies published the record of a bill of sale in consideration of $1 when as a matter of fact he claims the amount was $750. As a result of the alleged misrepresentation Utkman says he was obliged to file an involuntary bankruptcy petition.

Thrown From Car Step.

Mrs. Nannie Donan, 35 years old, living at 112 Irving avenue, St. Louis county, while boarding an Easton avenue car at the West End at 10 o'clock Tuesday was thrown to the ground. Her elbow was dislocated and her wrist was fractured. Her injuries were dressed and she was taken to her home.

Speaker Kelly Says Personal Interests Prevailed.

LOOKS FOR NEW COMBINE

HOUSE COULD RECONSIDER AND SAVE LEGISLATION.

Action Was Postponed for Two Weeks, Which Would Leave Too Little Time for Legislative Routine Before Adjournment April 14.

VOTE ON STREET BILLS IN THE HOUSE.

Ayes (to postpone action)—Delegates Brennan, Buckley, Cronin, Denny, Fontana, Gazzolo, Hannigan, Howard, Kinney, Kohn, Pfeiffer, Standard, Sweeney, Troll, Williams, Zachritz—16.

Nays (against deferring action)—Delegates Burke, Geraghty, Karbe, Klute, Reiss, Stanze, Windmiller, Kelly—8.

Absent—Delegates Faulkner, Funch, Murrell, Overbeck—4.

This vote prevailed throughout the evening on public improvement bills.

"There is no doubt there are persons in the House who are enemies of mine," said Speaker Charles Kelley to the Post-Dispatch Wednesday afternoon. "But I do not look upon the passage of the public improvement bills as a personal rebuke to me. Of course, it is clear that there is a strong effort on foot for a reorganization of the House, and I have no doubt that the House will be reorganized. But the motive that brought about last night's action is a motive of personal benefit."

"The bills that are practically killed, under reconsideration, are no more measures favored by me as speaker than they would have been favored by me as an humble member of the House."

My record is as clear on all public improvements bills. I have voted for them in every instance. Sometimes threats have been made by property owners, but I have said I shall vote for the improvements. The real truth about this business is as I have said, personal interests."

"Sweeney says the people in his ward are protesting against these improvements. But here is the people of the Ash Grove avenue? I'll tell you where the personal interest of some of the opponents of the bills comes in. The Board of Public Improvements has made a provision that lets in rock asphalt for all asphalt improvements. There seems to be a good opening for the sale of American arms to the Chinese rebels.

It is well to have hoodlums under surveillance, but it is best to have them under lock and key.

SECRETARY ROOT'S SERMON.

Secretary of War Root has issued a general order which all men may read with as much profit as the officers and men of the army.

The general theme is the value of moral and physical cleanliness and health. It counsels the officers to set a good example to the men and to admonish them wisely and kindly to refrain from intemperance and vice as their worst enemies and the certain destroyers of usefulness.

The secretary says that idleness leads to debauchery and debauchery to ruin. Idleness, intemperance, vice are contrasted with industry, temperance, virtue—the one leading to ruin and misery and the other to success and content.

Secretary Root is a good practical preacher. Moral and physical cleanliness and strength are the foundations of all success worth having. They are necessary to a useful and happy life.

President Roosevelt has no intention of becoming a czar, but he is so strenuous that he might unconsciously become one.

THEY WORK.

The Women's Health Protective Association of New York is composed of women who would rather work than talk.

The report of this society of the past four years contains this passage:

"The Women's Health Protective Association has no attractive social features to offer its members, neither does it at its monthly meetings take their time with soporific papers. It invites them to come in and help in doing good to others, to keep a clean and healthy city for us all, to keep air and water pure, and to do that no man, for his own private ends, deprives his neighbors of the clean and wholesome conditions which they need."

Since organizing four years ago the society has forced an increase of moral allowance at the almshouses and procured improvement in sanitary arrangements, exercised censorship over school hygiene, protected women prisoners from ill-treatment and worked not without result upon the garbage problem.

The program quoted above is in the nature of a self-denying ordinance. The women engaged in this work are doing it for the good of the community, without any perceptible anxiety concerning the glory attending it.

It is noteworthy, by the way, that while salvation is promised through devotion, through wisdom, through work, nothing is promised through talk. No woman can hope to reach a state of blessedness on the strength of her papers.

BEST GARDEN CONTEST.

A large number of children have sent in their names as contestants for the Post-Dispatch prize of $20 for the most attractive garden. It is evident that there is quite a revival of enthusiasm in regard to gardening and tree planting this spring. St. Louis will reap the benefit in more beautiful home surroundings.

But the parents of the children should caution them to "make haste slowly." Danger from frost is not yet past. In March, all kinds of preparatory work should be done. The ground should be made ready, as suggested in the Post-Dispatch articles on "Beautifying Home Surroundings." But the tender flower seeds and vines should not be planted in the open ground yet. Many seeds and plants can be started in pots and boxes, indoors or under shelter, ready to be planted out when all danger of frost is past.

The children, in this contest, have the right to get all the good advice obtainable. The planning and work should be their own. It will be most valuable and pleasurable experience for them.

PERPETUATING FAMILY NAMES.

The three children of F. Marion Crawford, novelist, have determined to perpetuate his name. If possible, by adding "Marion" to their surname and being known henceforth as Marion-Crawford, with a hyphen. They have already obtained legal permission to make the change. The eldest child will shine before the world as Eleanor Louisa Elizabeth Christopher Marion-Crawford. After her marriage, of course, being an American girl, she is expected to get married, though residing in Italy—she will be known as Eleanor Louisa Elizabeth Christopher Marion-Crawford Jones, or whatever her surname may happen to be.

This action on the part of the juvenile Crawfords opens up a wide vista to the children of all aspiring persons, literary or otherwise—a vista which has already been peeped into by such eminent gentlemen as Francis Salinas Salsus, Holmer Chatfield Chatfield-Taylor and Mr. Seton—or is it Thompson—who keeps us guessing whether we shall address our letters to Ernest Seton-Thompson or Ernest Thompson.

U. S. Grant III may decide to change his name to U. S. Grant-Grant-Grant. After a while we may have a family of the name of Grant-Grant-Grant-Grant.

of Pelion Ossa Prometheus Caucasus Coogler, the mellifluous bard of Tall Holt, Ind., may "determine to perpetuate the name" of their progenitor by hyphenating the whole business. This would seem to be a method of "perpetuating" family names by making them interminable.

The prospect is wearing. We have too many words now. But there is only one consolation. Whatever may come, we will never have families called Root-Moos or Sampson-Schley to arouse painful memories.

An alleged political quarrel in the House of Delegates resulted in the holding up of 17 street improvement bills. How long must St. Louis suffer?

THE GOOD STREETS CONFERENCE.

The good streets conference at the dinner of the Business Men's League resulted in the adoption of a resolution favoring the re-surfacing of the streets in the central district, between Washington and Market and Fourth and Twelfth streets, with asphalt.

There was a difference of opinion with regard to the material to be used. President Tansey of the Merchants' Exchange representing the heavy teaming interests, favoring the retention of granite, but there was harmony as to the necessity of having the best streets.

The question of material to be used is a question of the uses of the streets, the kind of material suited to the streets and the quality of the material. This question can only be settled by expert opinion based upon experience and practical tests. The majority of the speakers and the business men at the conference favored asphalt and this conclusion should have weight with the municipal authorities.

But the essential point of the resolution is that the business men demand smooth, clean, attractive streets. The demand extends to all streets but is pressing and special for the streets in the central business district. It is an emphatic notice to the city government that the business men want St. Louis put in order for the World's Fair.

The awakening of the business men to the needs of St. Louis and their action through the business associations in favor of the prompt creation of New St. Louis is most encouraging. It is a pledge of municipal betterment.

Judge Talty's advice to marry early may be placed beside that of Mr. Punch's "Don't." Also, Francis Bacon quotes an ancient worthy who, being asked when a man should marry, replied, "A young man not yet, an older man not at all." Where there is such a conflict of wisdom plain men will be pardoned if they act according to circumstances in the light of common sense.

THEY WERE SHOCKED.

American carpet-baggers should beware of Cuban justice. The three worthies just convicted of embezzlement—Neely, Reeves and Rathbone—are no doubt shocked by the severity of their sentence. Of course they did not expect conviction, accustomed as they were to the easy-going course of justice in the States. But conviction with 10-year sentences attached is sure to wound their feelings.

Neely gets 10 years and a fine of $5,700. Reeves, 10 years and a fine of $3,816. Rathbone, 10 years and a fine of $3,324.

In future adventures from Indiana and other political centers will think twice before they steal Cuba's postal funds.

The medical commission to investigate leprosy reports, not only that leprosy is conveyed from one person to another, but that a large majority of the cases in the United States are at large. Its recommendations of a federal retreat for lepers should be acted upon without delay. We have recently annexed a great deal of leprosy in our tropical possessions.

If there are to be railroad displays at the World's Fair these exhibits will add largely to the great Exposition. Such displays are always attractive, as it is to the interest of the railroad company to exhibit everything that is of importance along its line. Nothing is likely to be neglected in a showing made by a railroad.

If the British army is to be offered by London society and the United States army to be offered by politicians, two great nations may meet with disaster in spite of the courage and endurance of their soldiers.

With Uncle Mark Hanna not only become a pillar of the temple of labor, but an advocate of tariff concessions to Cuba, what can keep the Hanna presidential boom from expanding?

It seems that Multimillionaire Huntington had many "friends," to whom he loaned a good deal of money. What a host of "friends" a multimillionaire can always have with him!

Capt. Porter, in the Waller investigation, testifies that Gen. Smith "wanted no prisoners." Have we been imitating the Spaniards in the Philippines?

POST-DISPATCH SNAP SHOTS.

The St. Louis bears can hug themselves over Monday's Chicago happenings.

Paderewski's hair standing on end in a railroad accident would be a remarkable bit of scenery.

The matrimonial views of the Rev. Brownback surely coincide with those of the Rev. Greenback.

Had Gen. Miles been shot at 45 our young President would have been saved a good deal of trouble.

The joy of the first day upon which the overcoat may be left off is sure to be squelched by the appearance of the first fly.

Jan Kubicki can go back to Europe without acknowledging that he has had police protection when his feminine admirers were after him.

The preacher at Ardmore who shot and killed a man in a quarrel over church doctrine is doubtless certain that the soul of the poor fellow is now lost.

The report that the cowboys have substituted automobiles for ponies is very interesting. Larlat Petre, operating from an auto, must be doing great work.

Is the pen with which Gov. Dockery signed the bill against Christian Science healing still stored among the archives of the state medical association as a precious treasure?

A Chicago husband became cruel to his wife when she had spent a great part of $2,000 on silk clothing. Why is it that so many hardhearted wretches have patent, enduring wives?

The president of the Pennsylvania railroad has just scooped 34 miles in 79 minutes. What rubeus President Ted would make if he were president of a railroad instead of being President of the United States.

THE MAJESTY SHOE CO.,

404 and 406 N. BROADWAY,

Still doing business at the same old stand, only on second floor. During the past year we convinced twenty thousand of the good people of St. Louis that His and Her Majesty's Shoes were the best values ever shown in this city for $3.00. We are confident of increasing that number to thirty thousand the coming year, even if they are obliged to come upstairs for them. You can not get credit, free laces, free deliveries or discounts with His and Her Majesty's Shoes. You can get all these items free at any other shoe store, but you will find on comparison that you can well afford to pay these extras, and still make quite a saving.

HIS MAJESTY'S SHOES.

Made in Vici Kid, Velours Calf, Box Calf, Patent Kid and Patent Colt, the same leather that has been cut with unequalled success by all the high price shoemakers last season; some new and many exclusive effects in lasts, including the new Freak Straight London, the Winner Swing, the new Stone, etc.; sizes 4 to 13; AAA to E. We are having many gratified customers who bought their first pair of Majesty Shoes last season; they are unanimous in praising them for their good-wearing and comfort-giving qualities. Of course, we have some few complaints (accidents will happen in the best regulated factories), but we never fail to satisfy a reasonable complaint.

HER MAJESTY'S SHOES.

Made in all the new and many exclusive styles; new Colonial Oxfords, new Freak last, Lace and Button Oxfords, Patent Vici Kid, Vici Kid, Velour Calf, welts and turns; Louis XV. Heels, Military Heels, Cuban Heels and regular heels. We are having a great many gratified customers in every day who bought their first pair of Majesty Shoes last season; they are unanimous in their praise of the Majesty wearing qualities. We have also had some few complaints (accidents will happen in the best regulated factories), but we never fail to satisfy a reasonable complaint. We have added shoe shining stands for ladies. All shines, 5 cents.

MICHAEL MADE PRESIDENT

New Board of Directors Elects Officers for the Mercantile Club.

Ellas Michael, a former vice-president of the Mercantile Club, was elected president of that organization at a meeting of the board of directors held Tuesday afternoon. John Schroers was elected vice-president, E. A. Hildenbrandt, secretary and J. W. Frisole, treasurer.

MILLIONAIRES BAR HOTEL.
Vanderbilt and Sloane Paid $1,000,000 to Save Fifth Avenue.
NEW YORK, March 25.—Plans for a large hotel at Fifth avenue and Fifty-second street, which have caused much annoyance among the multi-millionaires of that district, have been checked.

GET YOUR SHARE.

Blackmen, whitemen, redmen, yellowmen,—all are busy eating away at the world's food supply—every day—three times a day.

Every one is entitled to a share. Are you getting yours? Does it do you good?

If not, take Scott's Emulsion. It is a concentrated, predigested food—much nourishment in small space—and all usable by the weakest system.

It restores the flesh of young and old.

BOOKKEEPER MADE A $2,000,000 ERROR

WHY TIP ON RAILROAD DIVIDEND WAS NOT REALIZED.

DISCOVERED AFTER 14 YEARS.

Terre Haute Clerk Charged Amount to Assets, Although It Belonged to the Liabilities.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, March 25.—"Buy Terre Haute" has been a hot tip for many months. All the original tipsters of Wall street and those who came later have peddled the tip under a cipher known only to their subscribers.

The stock is really Evansville & Terre Haute, but the name of the latter Indiana city is attached to it on the street because it can be pronounced in so many ways.

From the inside it was learned that "Terre Haute" would declare a dividend March 25.

The bookkeeping of the railroad, it was said, proved that it would be impossible to dodge the dividend.

From 55 the stock advanced to 74½, at which point it sold March 7.

All the tipsters said, "We told you so." It is selling today between 74½ and 85, and there is no dividend forthcoming.

Instead, there is an explanation that a mere matter of $2,000,000 has been carried as assets instead of liabilities. It was an error in bookkeeping. Wall street is used to similar disappointments, and when "Terre Haute" staggered under the correction of the error in bookkeeping, it was regarded as a bear card.

The board of directors of the "Terre Haute" ordered the transfer of the "assets" to the liability side of the ledger.

Previously, it had been announced that a dividend would be declared. The announcement was withdrawn when the books were overhauled.

For 14 years, explained Chairman Carlton of "Terre Haute," the mistake has been carried on the books as a real asset.

In 1888, long before the present management took hold, the company acquired a small road and changed certain bonds of that road as assets instead of liabilities.

The amount involved is less than $2,000,000, he said. It was deemed wise to straighten the error before declaring a dividend.

It is reported that President Honeley has been asked to return from his Florida trip.

SACRIFICES PULPIT, NOT POMPADOUR

PREACHER ADOPTED STYLE TO PLEASE HIS MOTHER-IN-LAW.

PARTITIONERS DESERT CHURCH

The Rev. W. H. Walker Asserts That the Women of His Flock Prefer an Attractive Man to an Attractive Sermon.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CHICAGO, March 25.—The Rev. William H. Walker, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Wilmette, is about to leave that pulpit, and one of the reasons assigned for his departure is that the women of his congregation do not like his personal appearance. The brushing of his hair in pompadour style is the straw that broke the camel's back, according to the minister's statement of the case.

"A few months ago, to please my mother-in-law, I began to comb my hair in pompadour style," Dr. Walker said yesterday.

"Then my audiences began to grow small and members of my congregation went to hear Dr. Willett and others at Evanston. I then heard a good sermon."

Dr. Walker declares that he has been out of sympathy with his congregation for some time. He attracted general notice a few weeks ago by a sermon in which he called Board of Trade operators gamblers and all speculators robbers.

Previous to that time he had resigned his pulpit, but action on the resignation was deferred from time to time until a successor could be chosen.

Now, it is said, arrangements have been made for him to leave.

The report that his personal appearance was responsible for the lack of interest by the congregation in his sermons was widely circulated in Wilmette yesterday.

Dr. Walker's pompadour, which he refused to change, was a great deal of trouble to him, or anything peculiar about his appearance, had anything to do with the lack of interest in his sermons. Others refuse to discuss the matter at all, and no member of the congregation would admit that there was truth in the report.

Dr. Walker is looking for a new pulpit. He may take the lecture platform if a pastorate is not found soon.

New York's Meat Costly.

NEW YORK, March 25.—Prices of fresh meat are rising rapidly here, and, although the retailers have not advanced their prices as the wholesale dealers have, they will do so within the next few days.

Every spring the price of meat goes up, but this year it is higher than for many years past. Large demands for export are said to have caused the advance.

SERVED ON KOSUTH'S STAFF.
Death Ends Remarkable Career of Col. Joseph A. Lubliner.

CHICAGO, March 25.—Col. Joseph A. Lubliner is dead at Mount Sterling, Ill. In 1848 he served on the staff of Kosuth, with the rank of colonel. He was taken prisoner by the Russians and sentenced to 25 years' service in the Russian army, being for some time stationed at Moscow and afterward detailed as imperial guard to Czar Nicholas.

Aided by friends and disguised as a peasant, he escaped to Brussels and afterward to Hamburg and Liverpool. At the latter place he rejoined Gen. Kosuth and came with him to America. In 1862 he went to California and served two years as a member of the Pioneer Guards and as captain of the vigilance committee, which restored law and order. In 1866 he located in Mount Sterling, where he had since resided.
